 - Fiber
- J. Not all nutrient guidelines will be met with each meal. However, areas that do not meet the requirements should be the focus of future menu revisions.
- K. The following nutrients should be included in the analysis when the computerized nutrient analysis method is used: calories; protein; carbohydrates; total fat; saturated fat; total fiber; vitamins A, C, D, E, K, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, B6, folate, and B12; calcium; chromium; copper; iron; magnesium; sodium; and zinc.
- L. The California 1600-calorie component meal pattern has been developed to reflect the DGA requirements for those programs that are not using computerized nutrient analysis.

- M. The ENP Provider has the discretion to allow occasional flexibility in planning requirements, with the approval of the K/T AAA dietician. Fortified food products and combination dishes used in a menu may not match the meal pattern, but may provide for the required nutrient values. For example, a fortified snack bar as a dessert could be used to boost the nutrient value of a boxed lunch or special occasion meal.

 - Raw leafy vegetables (salads) should equal 1 cup if they are to be considered a serving.
 - Canned vegetables shall be provided not more than twice per week.
- C. Fruit – Fresh, frozen, or canned

- G. Condiments and Product Substitutes

- Sugar substitutes, pepper, herbal seasonings, lemon, vinegar, non-dairy coffee creamer, salt, and sugar may be provided but should not be counted as fulfilling any part of the nutritive requirements.
- Condiments such as salad dressings, ketchup, soy sauce, mustard, and mayonnaise do not need to be counted in a menu analysis if they are served “on the side” and are not combined with the food.

H. Sodium

- The commitment to reduce sodium in the meals stems from the fact that nutrition-related chronic diseases remain the primary cause of death among people aged 65 and older. California has a diverse population, and Nutrition Programs in the state provide culturally appropriate meals for many ethnicities. Asian meals traditionally have higher sodium levels. Programs that choose to provide culturally appropriate meals but are concerned with the sodium content of the meals may consider:
 - Using low-sodium soy sauce or diluting soy sauce with water to produce low-sodium soy sauce;
 - Offering soy sauce as a condiment to be added by the senior;
 - Providing Nutrition Education on sodium;
 - Continuing to work with the sodium levels of meals, making small steps, to reduce the risk of developing kidney stones and possibly decrease bone loss with age;
 - Not providing potassium chloride salt substitutes;
 - Noting meals that have more than 1000 mg of sodium on the menu as such: “This meal contains more than 1000 mg of sodium,” or using an icon denoting a high-sodium meal; and
 - Using low-sodium versions of high-sodium foods when available and feasible within budget allowances.

 If these elements are not provided to the level noted as a weekly average, the program must educate the participants on how to obtain these elements. This can be recognized from the weekly meal nutrition analysis.

Note: Fortified foods should be used to meet vitamin B12 needs.

(3) All menus that are provided through the Nutrition Services Incentive Program, whether prepared on-site, frozen, non-perishable, boxed, or catered, must meet the same requirements.

EXHIBIT H: CULTURAL COMPETENCE AND DIVERSITY

The CONTRACTOR is encouraged to support Tulare County Health and Human Services Agency in the journey to work effectively across and among all cultures. It is the desire of HHSA that services be sensitive to the diversity of the community served, including but not limited to ethnic, linguistic, sexual and cultural characteristics. Sensitivity includes acceptance and respect for the cultural values, beliefs and practices of the community, as well as the ability to apply an understanding of the relationships of language and culture to the delivery of supports and services.

CONTRACTOR and K/T AAA agree that:

- Cultural competence is the integration and transformation of knowledge about individuals and groups of people into specific standards, policies, practices, and attitudes used in appropriate cultural settings to increase the quality of services, thereby producing better outcomes. Competence in cross-cultural functioning means learning new patterns of behavior and effectively applying them in appropriate settings.

CONTRACTOR will strive to:

- Ensure that agents, employees or officers providing services are sensitive to the ethnic, linguistic, sexual and cultural diversity of the community served. Sensitivity includes acceptance and respect for the cultural values, beliefs and practices of the community, as well as the ability to apply an understanding of the relationships of language and culture to the delivery of supports and services.
- Assure equal access for people with diverse cultural backgrounds and/or limited English proficiency. Limited English Proficiency includes literacy issues: those who cannot either read or write in any language.
